

For Release: October 22, 2010

Media Contacts: Maria Weybrecht
440.827.2000 x2769
maria@workflow.com

Workflow.com's workflowEHR Receives ONC-ATCB Certification Via Drummond Group

October 22, 2010, Cleveland, Ohio – Workflow.com announced today that workflowEHR has received Complete EHR Certification, deeming the electronic health record (EHR) software capable of enabling providers to meet the Stage One Meaningful Use measures required to qualify for funding under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA). Tested and certified under the Drummond Group's Electronic Health Records Office of the National Coordinator Authorized Testing and Certification Body (ONC-ATCB) program, the EHR software is 2011/2012 compliant in accordance with the criteria adopted by the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

According to Workflow.com CEO Packy Hyland, "We are very excited to be able to offer our current and prospective customers an exceptional EHR product that will ultimately help them achieve meaningful use and qualify for incentive funds under ARRA. We are dedicated to improving the quality of healthcare for providers and patients and this is just one more step toward achieving that goal."

Drummond Group's ONC-ATCB 2011/2012 certification program tests and certifies that EHRs meet the meaningful use criteria for either eligible provider or hospital technology. In turn, healthcare providers using the EHR systems of certified vendors are qualified to receive federal stimulus monies upon demonstrating meaningful use of the technology -- a key component of the federal government's push to improve clinical care delivery through the adoption and effective use of EHRs by U.S. healthcare providers.

"The need for EHRs in the United States healthcare system has been acknowledged for many years. Drummond Group is proud to work with leading healthcare vendors to help them offer certified technologies to health providers across the country," says Ric Drummond, CEO of the Drummond Group. "The snowball effect could mean great things for clinical care in our country. We can help IT vendors certify their EHR systems – vendors can then help providers implement the EHR solutions to achieve meaningful use and receive incentive funds – and ultimately providers can leverage the systems to improve clinical care across the nation."

About Workflow.com

Workflow.com has created innovative solutions for Electronic Health Records, Practice Management, ePrescribing, Secure Messaging, and Workflow. WorkflowEHR® offers a unique approach that makes it easy to transition from paper to electronic health records. WorkflowPM™, our EHR-integrated practice management solution, enables you to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of your billing.